DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

- Group I, claim(s) 65-98, drawn to a printing blanket unit.
- Group II, claim(s) 99-125, drawn to methods of making printing blanket units.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The printing blanket unit of Group I could be made by a different method than those recited by Group II, such as by a molding method.

3. This application also contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

If applicant elects Group I above, then applicant must also elect one of the following Printing Blanket Unit species:

Species A: The Printing Blanket Unit of Figures 3, 4, and 12

Species B: The Printing Blanket Unit of Figure 5

If applicant elects Group II above, then applicant must also elect one of the following Methods of Making species:

Species A: The process of making the blanket of Figure 5

Species B: The process shown in Figures 6-8

Species C: The process shown in Figures 9-11

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species (dependent upon which Group is elected above) to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Art Unit: 2854

4. The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

Printing Blanket Unit Species

- Species A: claims 65-70, 72-89, 91-98
- Species B: claims 65-66, 70, 76, 85, 87-98

Method of Making Species

- Species A: claims 99-104
- Species B: claims 105-113
- Species C: claims 114-125

The following claim(s) are generic:

With respect to Group I, claims 65-98, claims 65-66, 70, 85, 87-89, 91-98 appear to be generic. With respect to Group II, no claims appear to be generic.

5. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

With respect to the printing blanket unit species, the two species do not relate to a same or corresponding special technical feature because the printing blanket of Species A has a filler material at the leading and trailing ends unconnected to each other while Species B has filler material formed using one workpiece separated by cutting.

With respect to the method of making species, the three species do not relate to a same or corresponding special technical feature. In particular, Species A requires fastening the support plate on a cylinder, filling a gap between the plate legs with support material and cutting through the support material to form support elements, Species B requires applying the filler material to the support plate and then applying the printing blanket over the support plate to partially cover the filler material, and Species C requires providing the blanket and support plate and applying the filler material over both the support plate and printing blanket.

6. A telephone call was NOT made to Douglas Hanscom since applicant's representative historically does not elect over the phone.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

7. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

8. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Leslie J. Evanisko whose telephone number is (571) 272-2161. The examiner can normally be reached on T-F 8:00 am-6:30 pm.
